Traffic Toll Rate Beating Predictions

Safety Council Says 620 Death Mark May Be Broken This Year

By The Associated Press

Traffic	393
Fires	78
Miscellaneous	62
Total	533

The Christmas holiday traffic death toll mounted steadily Saturday but the National Safety Council said it appeared there was a break in the rate that was headed for an all-time holiday record.

The council said the toll still was ahead of the rate which would produce the 620 deaths it predicted for the four-day holiday period.

'Glimmer of Hope'

But it added there was a "glimmer of hope" the rising number of auto fatalities might fall short of the all-time holiday high of 706 set in a similar Christmas period two years ago.

As usual, speed and careless driving were blamed for most of the killer-accidents.

Generally fair and warm weather egged on some motorists to push down on the accelerator.

The council said it based its hopes that no new record was in the making on midnight figures which showed this year's toll at 345 deaths. At a comparable period in 1956 the death count was 384.

The NSC said early Saturday morning figures indicated there was a slow-down in the death rate. At the start of the holiday fatalities rose far above a record-breaking pace.

The NSC said Friday night was the first time since The Associated Press count started at 6 p.m. local time Wednesday that the traffic toll had fallen below the heavy fatality pace of two years ago.

Hope Slaughter Stopped

"These figures are certainly the first glimmer of hope in an otherwise bleak picture. The council hopes we have stopped this advance of human slaughter on the highways. We hope we now have a chance to avoid hitting the all-time high of 706 dead in 1956," the spokesman said.

An AP survey for a nonholiday period, from 6 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 10 to midnight, Sunday, Dec. 14, showed 341 persons died in traffic accidents, 106 in fires and 105 in miscellaneous type accidents, a total of 552.

She Becomes 8th Member Of Top Body

Governor-Elect Picks Cincinnati Resident; Husband Ran in May

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov.-Elect Michael V. DiSalle announced his eighth cabinet appointment today—Mrs. Mary Gorman of Wyoming, a Cincinnati suburb, to be director of public welfare.

Mrs. Gorman (1010 Brayton Ave.) has been prominent in Ohio and Cincinnati civic and welfare programs. Much of her work in the past five years has been in the field of mental health. She helped organize and is a member of the board of the Ohio Mental Health Federation.

Husband Ran Against Him

A native of Hillsboro, she is married to Robert N. Gorman, a trustee of Ohio State University. She has two sons and three grandchildren.

Mrs. Gorman has been active in community chest work, and also in the field of housing. She is a former chairman of the state housing board and presently is a member of the board. She is chairman of the citizens committee for slum clearance in Cincinnati.

Her husband is a former state supreme court judge. He also sought the Democratic nomination for governor last spring, but after he was defeated, campaigned for DiSalle.

DiSalle named two other members of his cabinet Friday.

He named Miss Margaret A. Mahoney, Cleveland attorney and former state senator, to be director of industrial relations. She was the first woman ever to hold that post, from 1953-56 under Gov. Frank J. Lausche, now a U. S. senator.

Crouch in Liquor Post

DiSalle also appointed Richard C. Crouch, 54, as director of liquor control. Crouch resigned last October as president and treasurer of Acma Precision Parts, Inc., Dayton.

Miss Mahoney will succeed Hugh D. Wait of Columbus in her $10,000-a-year post. Crouch will replace Floyd C. Moon, who recently announced he will return inauguration day, Jan. 12, to his post with the State Highway Patrol.

Since 1956, Miss Mahoney has served on the Cleveland-Cuyahoga County Civil Service Commission and engaged in private law practice.

Reported in Venezuela

Balloon Is Sought After Ocean Trip

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Aerial searchers tried today to pin down unconfirmed reports from ham radio operators that the British balloon Small World had landed in eastern Venezuela after a transatlantic flight.

The air search began Friday over the jungle area of the Orinoco River delta.

Land Near Pedernales

The amateur radio operators reported that the balloon and its four passengers had landed near Pedernales, a Venezuelan port on the Atlantic at the northern edge of the wide delta. The town is just 20 miles west of the tip of Trinidad in the British West Indies.

The report gained strength when Minister of Communications Oscar Machado Zuloaga was quoted in Caracas newspapers as saying the balloon had landed in Venezuela.

The Civil Aeronautics Authority said, however, that it had nothing to confirm the report. It was supervising the search by a Communications Ministry DC3. After searching for only an hour or two, the plane was forced by darkness to land at Maturin, 60 miles west of Pedernales.

Barbados Was Goal

The Small World cast off from Santa Cruz de Tenerife in the Canary Islands, 65 miles off the coast of Morocco, on Dec. 12. The goal was to drift with the winds to Barbados, some 3,000 miles away in the West Indies Federation.

Pedernales is about 3,450 miles from the takeoff point and 300 miles southwest of Barbados.

Those aboard were pilot A. B. Eiloart, 51, a London businessman; his son Timothy, 21, radioman; navigator Colin Mudie, 31, who crossed the Atlantic in 1952 in a 19-foot whaleboat; and Mudie's wife Rosemary, 30, the cook, photographer and copilot.

No Hope Held For Ending of Airline Strike

By The Associated Press

Negotiations continue today between Eastern Air Lines and its striking flight engineers and American Airlines and its striking pilots, with little prospect that the two big carriers will get back in business soon.

In Miami Friday night, federal mediator Warren Lane said of the Eastern strike: "We're right at a stalemate. There's no progress that I can report."

In Chicago American officials awaited word from the Air Lines Pilots Assn. on a seven-point formula worked out by mediators and already agreed on by the company.

Beyond asking clarification on some points of the proposed settlement, the pilots' union gave no indication of coming to an immediate decision.

The Eastern dispute centers about the refusal by 550 flight engineers to accept a company demand that they qualify as jet pilots for emergency purposes.

Eastern has reached agreement with 5,300 members of the International Assn. of Machinists, but the latter will not cross the flight engineers' picket lines.

Eastern has been shut down for more than a month. Pilots for American struck a week ago Friday.

New York's Paper Strike Nearly Over

Tentative Agreement Up for Vote by Union At Meeting on Sunday

NEW YORK (AP)—A tentative settlement has been reached in the costliest newspaper strike in New York City history. A back-to-work move hinges on a membership vote Sunday by striking deliverers.

The peace formula to end the strike, now in its 18th day, was announced Friday night by the nation's top federal mediator, Joseph F. Finnegan. He expressed himself as "mighty pleased" by the package settlement granting wage increases and other concessions.

May Start Monday

The nine struck dailies may be back on the streets by Monday if terms are accepted by the independent Newspaper Mail and Deliverers Union.

Asher Schwartz, union attorney, said union officials are confident the terms will be acceptable to the membership.

The new two-year pact includes a $3.55-a-week pay hike the first year, $1.75 the second year, Columbus Day as a ninth paid annual holiday, and three days paid sick leave a year. The union gave up its demand for a shorter work week. They have been on a 40-hour week.

Represents Compromise

The agreement represents a compromise of the publishers' original offer of a $7-a-week wage package spread over two years—$4 the first year and $3 the second. Present wages average $103.82 weekly.

Barney Cameron, president of the Newspaper Publishers Assn., termed the peace proposal a redistribution of the $7 package "along lines which the negotiating committee of the drivers' union prefers."

Traffic Death Total in Ohio Rises Steadily

By The Associated Press

Ohio's highway traffic death toll for the Christmas holiday season mounted to 19 today. Safety officials feared the home-bound traffic of Sunday travelers would increase the toll still further.

Two double fatality traffic accidents Friday helped push the toll higher.

First Saturday victim to be counted in the Associated Press tabulation which began at 6 p.m. Wednesday and continues through midnight Sunday came in the early hours of the day. Dorothy Fetcenko, 31, of Route 2, Elyria, was killed when her auto was struck from behind by another car on Ohio 57 between Elyria and Lorain.

The double fatalities occurred near Dayton and Fremont. Both resulted from two-car collisions.

Through midnight Thursday there were 10 traffic deaths. Two other persons died Friday of injuries received in highway accidents Thursday.

In addition, there have been two miscellaneous accidental deaths. A Fremont youth fell through the ice and drowned after walking across a frozen section of Lake Erie. And a Dayton man was fatally injured in a fall down some stairs at his home.

Friday's fatalities:

James House, 18, of Fremont, drowned in Lake Erie off Catawba Point near Port Clinton when he fell through the ice as he walked across it.

Louis Elmore, 64, of Dayton, of injuries received Thursday in a fall down stairs at his home.

Suspect Confesses

Woman, Two Men Indicted in Killing

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—"She didn't want another woman to have her boy."

Dist. Atty. Roy Gustafson was talking about Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, 54, who was indicted Friday on a charge of murder, along with the two men she is accused of hiring to kill her daughter-in-law.

Talking to reporters following the return of the indictments, Gustafson said it was a dramatic midnight confession by one of the accused hired killers that led to the county grand jury's swift action.

Deliberate 15 Minutes

The jurors deliberated only 15 minutes before indicting Mrs. Duncan, Luis Moya, 22, and Augustine Baldonado, 25, for the murder of Olga Duncan, 30, pregnant wife of Mrs. Duncan's son, Frank.

Moya, a drifter with an eight-year record of arrests, had maintained a sullen silence since the body of the Canadian nurse was found in a hastily dug grave near here last Sunday. But as midnight tolled on Christmas night he called in his jailers.

"I have confessed to God and asked forgiveness," he told them, and gave a statement the district attorney said corroborated in every detail one made earlier by Baldonado.

Fierce Jealousy

The two men say Mrs. Duncan promised them $6,000 to kill the woman her son had married last June. They carried out the murder plot last Nov. 17, they said, luring the bride into their car and choking and beating her to death.

A fierce jealousy lay behind Mrs. Duncan's plotting, Gustafson said. She did everything she could to prevent her son's marriage and to break it up after the ceremony. Duncan had separated from his bride after two weeks and gone back to live with his mother.

Mrs. Duncan has denied any connection with her daughter-in-law's death. She also has denied being jealous of the pretty nurse.

Mrs. Duncan did not testify. Her son did, however, and it was a shaken, dejected man who walked from the jury room.

Duncan, 30, a bushy-haired man with heavy, dark-rimmed glasses, told reporters he had been asked mostly about his mother and her many marriages, four of them in eight years to men much younger than she. They ended in annulment or divorce.

Weatherman Predicts Warming Trend Here

Mostly cloudy and warmer weather was promised for the weekend by the weatherman.

A high of 32 was recorded Friday, with an overnight low of 22 noted. The low was a far cry from the 9 above recorded early Friday morning.

The mercury stood at 33 at noon today, with a high of 42 anticipated before nightfall. Tonight's low is not expected to exceed 31, with a peak reading Sunday of perhaps 45.

Plan To Drop Engineer Job Is Abandoned

Mayor To Continue With Proposal for Increase in Salaries

A decision to withdraw his proposal for consolidating the city engineer and sanitary engineer posts was announced today by Mayor Wendell L. Strong.

The proposal was submitted to City Council for consideration at its meeting Monday night. It was contained in an ordinance that also proposed to raise the pay of the city engineer, the city hall janitor and assistant janitor.

Mayor Strong said this morning he still plans to continue the proposal for the changes in the pay for the janitors but "will have to work out something else" on the engineering department positions.

"Evidently some council members opposed it," the mayor said.

At Monday night's council meeting, the ordinance first was amended by the councilmen to specifically eliminate the post of sanitary engineer, and then two votes were taken on a motion to suspend the rules requiring a second and third reading of the ordinance. In the first vote, the motion was defeated 8-1 and in the second it was defeated 5-4.

Part of the discussion centered around a question as to whether the engineering department should be reduced in size at this time with a number of sewer improvements and street improvements still in the offing.

Shakeup Seen For European Currency Rule

LONDON (AP) — A wholesale shakeup of European currency regulations — including easier convertibility for the British pound sterling appeared imminent today.

There was a general belief that the French Cabinet in today's meeting would devalue the franc by 10 to 20 per cent.

London financial circles buzzed with speculation that restrictions on converting the pound into other currencies soon would be eased for non-British residents. The British Treasury declined to comment.

However, the Treasury press office summoned British and foreign newsmen to a news conference to discuss newspaper stories regarding currency changes.

It was widely accepted that any easing of restrictions on the pound would be followed by similar relaxations elsewhere in Western Europe.

The French press has charged that Britain's move toward sterling convertibility is an attempt to disrupt the European Common Market which begins Jan. 1.

Plagued With Auto Trouble

Sheriff's Men Grounded By Inoperative Cruisers

Crippled automobiles have forced the sheriff's department to shift into low gear operations.

Sheriff Glenn Obenour said all three of the department's cruisers are at least partially inoperative and that only one could be used for high speed operation—and then only in event of an extreme emergency.

The department turned down a request this morning to pick up a supply of blood at the Delaware County line and transport it to the Crawford County line for an emergency there. This operation involves traveling at high speed across the county, and, according to the sheriff, none of the cars is reliable.

As a result, Delaware County sheriff's deputies met Crawford deputies half way in order to complete the delivery.

Sheriff Obenour said the situation is nothing new. One of the cruisers, a 1957 model, has been without an operative radio for two weeks. Radios in both 1957 models are about 20 years old and repairmen are having trouble rounding up parts, the sheriff said.

The other marked cruiser was in the garage for repairs five out of seven days last week. On Thursday it wouldn't start and had to be towed away from the emergen-

Accused of Favoritism

Prison Camp Supervisor Is Requested To Resign

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Lt. Thomas Crowe was fired as supervisor of the Hocking Honor Camp of Ohio Penitentiary today. The action came at the close of an investigation into alleged special privileges granted life termer Thomas (Yonnie) Licavoli.

Warden Ralph W. Alvis and Maury Koblentz, head of the state division of corrections, had demanded Crowe's resignation. He complied at once.

The weeks-long investigation of the alleged privileges to Licavoli, serving a life term for murder, stemmed originally from a story by a Columbus Dispatch reporter who had visited the Hocking Camp.

Licavoli then was an inmate of the camp, but since has been returned to the penitentiary.

After the news story, Warden Alvis and Koblentz began an investigation and turned the matter over to the Ohio Highway Patrol for a complete report. That report was made today.

Warden Alvis said Crowe had admitted "laxity in supervision in acknowledging that Licavoli had been granted special privileges."

Nine allegations of special privileges had been investigated. Warden Alvis said only two of these were substantiated—that Licavoli had unauthorized visitors at the camp, and that he made unauthor-

Religion at Work

Two Men Who Had Everything

Finally Christmas arrived, and two men, unknown to each other but alike in one respect, awakened to the coming of the day.

One man opened his eyes to see three expectant boyish faces huddled over his bed.

"Wake up, Daddy, it's 7 o'clock!" the oldest boy said. "We can't wait forever!"

The man bolted from his bed and closed the frost-encrusted window.

"Hey, Mom," he called, "Santa Claus has been here! I'll get the boys dressed and you fix breakfast. Come on, gang!"

Minutes later, he was sitting at the dinette table with his family. Breakfast didn't take long; there was too much excitement in the air.

"You guys finish your milk," the man said, "then we'll go!"

THE TREE stood in a corner of the living room. It glistened with tinsel, ornaments and lights. And stretched out before it was the electric train the whole family wanted.

The man and his wife stood by and listened to shouts of joy as the two older boys ran the train and the youngest tried to knife his way between them and become a part of the fun.

There were packages under the tree from grandparents, uncles, aunts and cousins. There was a package from the man to his wife. And there was an extra special package for the man; it had been a secret between the mother and the boys.

"I didn't know what to get you," his wife said. "I couldn't think of anything you'd really want. I hope you'll like these!"

They waited, crowded around his chair, while he opened the package.

"Gosh!" he exclaimed. "What a swell present! House shoes with a warm, wooly lining!"

-:-

ACROSS the country, many hundreds of miles away, the other man slowly opened his eyes and looked out into a warm mid-morning sunshine.

He sat up on the edge of his bed and looked at his watch. Ten o'clock!

His wife stirred in the next bed and looked up at him.

"Good morning, Dear," he said. "Shall I order breakfast?"

"Orange juice and coffee for me, that's all," she replied.

The man reached for the phone, called room service and placed the order.

He pulled on his dressing gown and went into the adjoining living room.

OUTSIDE THE hotel window, centered in the huge patio, was a tall, stately fir tree decorated with brilliant colored fruits, pink flowers and pale blue lights. The fir was a striking contrast to the silent stillness of the surrounding palms.

Presently there was a knock at the door; the waiter had come with their breakfast.

The man's wife joined him. She brought a beautifully wrapped package to the table.

"I didn't know what to get you," she said. "I couldn't think of anything you'd really want. I hope you'll like these!"

She waited, an uncertain smile on her lips, while he opened the package.

"Well—most unusual," he said. "House shoes with platinum buckles!"

-:-

As the sermon theme Sunday morning at the Hill Street Church of Christ the minister will use the subject, "Behold, He Cometh." In the evening a 27-minute color and sound film, "God's Word in Man's Language" will be shown. It deals with Scripture translation work for the spreading distribution of the Bible in foreign lands.

Fearless in '59

A Sermonette

By REV. M. E. HOLLENSEN
Pastor of Emanuel Lutheran Church

"Fear not; for I have redeemed thee, I have called thee by thy name; thou art mine." Isaiah 43:1.

Standing on the threshold of a new year, about to enter a new year with paths untried, unknown ways beckoning to us — as we think about these things, fear enters our hearts, we become filled with a sense of panic, and we wonder what things may come to us in 1959.

Yet our God says, "Fear not." God tells us not to be afraid, not to have our hearts fail us for fear, not to allow ourselves to be filled with dread.

And why not? Our gracious God has good reason for telling us not to be afraid of the future and what things may lie ahead, for our God reminds us that he has redeemed us.

"I HAVE redeemed thee," says our God. And surely, we know that God has done this very thing for we have just experienced the thrill again of Christmas, the birthday of the Manger Child of Bethlehem. We have just returned from our pilgrimage to Bethlehem in Judea, and we have seen again the wonderful things which came to pass there centuries ago. We saw the Christchild of Bethlehem —God's son, born of Mary; God's gift to this world, Jesus, Christ the Lord. And if we have turned to the sacred record of glean the meaning of this, we have come away knowing that Jesus is the Savior, the one who came to redeem the world.

And that Jesus did redeem the world, he did buy back mankind from sin and eternal death and punishment. That Babe of Bethlehem came to die; he was the only one who ever came into this world to die. And he came to die that all men in him might live. He came to go to the cross, there to satisfy the justice of his heavenly Father, there to atone for the world's guilt and punishment.

Christmas means the glad tidings that God has given us a Savior, who in shedding his blood has the gift of eternal life and everlasting salvation to give to all men.

So as we prepare to enter the portals of a new year, we need not fear—ours can be the joy of knowing we have a savior, who pardons, forgives, rescues from eternal hell, who bestows eternal life! God has redeemed us; he will never remove his savior from the world. This savior, able to save all who believe in him, will still be with us in '59. So our God assures us, "Fear not."

We can be fearless in '59, for our God continues, "I have called thee by thy name."

THINK OF IT! God knows our name. God knows your name, and he knows mine. How it thrills us when some one knows our name and remembers it and calls us by our name. God knows our name because he is so greatly concerned about us.

God is concerned about you and me. God loves us. We are the apple of his eye. There is no one on earth that God loves more than he loves you or me. Therefore, our God of concern, who will be with us in the new year, is a God who will provide for us. He will supply us with all that we need to support our body and life. Even as he has taken care of our wants in this year about to be drawn to a close, so he will still provide for us in the year that beckons to us.

God will provide for our earthly needs, in keeping with the plans and purposes which he has for us. As we surrender to his will in all things in '59, we can be assured that God will take care of us, and see to it that life will be ours until we have completed the purpose for which he has given us life. Yes, we shall have immortality in this world until God brings our life to a close, a life with its mission completed and finished.

Pray, then, friend. Why be afraid, why be fearful in '59 when our God knows our very name, knows all about us, has an intimate interest and concern in us? Let us enter '59 with courage and with joy that comes from our God.

1959 beckons to us, and by God's grace we shall enter this new year. And we can be of good courage, with all fear absent, because our God further assures us, "thou art mine."

FRIEND, GOD claims you and me as his very own. We are his special property. Having redeemed us through his son, we are God's by a glorious purchase. We cost the Father the sacrifice of his son on Calvary. And now we are God's — God's own, God's children, God's prized possession. And this means that God intends to keep us as his very own, too. This means God will see to it that as far as he is concerned, nothing will ever arise in our lives that will be able to separate us from him.

In this coming new year, God will watch the temptations, the enticements to sin, which come to us. God will control them; God will keep them in hand. True, God never tempts us to sin, for God is holy, and God hates sin. But even with regard to the temptations which come to us from Satan, from the world, and from our own sinful flesh, God promises that no temptation will ever be so great that it will be able to overcome us. When temptations come in '59, if we turn to God and ask him for strength, the strength needed will be ours. With God's strength we will be more than conquerors in every temptation.

And because God tells us we are his, God will also have something to do regarding the adversities, the troubles, which will come to us. That troubles will arise in 1959 is certain; but it is also certain that no trouble will ever be so great that it will be able to separate us from our God and our Savior. If in time of sorrow and grief and difficulty we turn to God for strength—strength will be given us. God assures us that as our days, so shall our strength be.

The joy of the assurance of spiritual strength for the day can be ours in '59. Let us take God with us as we enter the new year, and then we can say with Paul "For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord (Rom. 8:37-38)."

So, Christian, earthly pilgrim, let us take God with us into the new year. Let us be sure we have God's Christ as we walk the untried paths of '59.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

A New Year Full of Happiness

A while back I happened to be waiting for a train in the South Station at Boston, Strolling around the station during the few minutes I had to wait, I passed the restaurant. Memory carried me back to an old friend — now gone to heaven — by the name of William L. Stidger, preacher and professor, affectionately known to his friends and students as "Bill" Stidger.

Vincent Peale

I recalled one winter evening when I had an oyster stew with Bill Stidger in that South Station restaurant. Bill was one of the most eager, enthusiastiv men I ever knew. He effervesced, he bubbled over. Life aways seemed wonderful to him. And, as we ate our stew that night, I said, "Bill, I've always wondered about you. You seem so completely and thoroughly happy. You are a happy man, aren't you?

"Sure thing," he boomed, "my life is full of happiness. The world is wonderful and exciting."

THEN I BEGAN to probe for his secret, for I knew he had one, and finally he said something most significant. I have often used what he said in speeches and books. Bill Stidger told me that the secret of his life full of happiness was simply that he had learned to practice the attitude of gratitude.

Isn't that a felicitous phrase? And isn't that a felicitous idea? Bill Stidger went on to tell how to practice the attitude of gratitude. When he woke up in the morning the first thing he did was to give thanks to the Lord that he was alive! "The more you remind yourself that you are alive the more alive you'll be," he said.

Next, he would tell the Lord that he was grateful for a "delicious night's sleep." What a description . . . "delicious night's sleep." He would give thanks to the Lord for his wife and children.

"AND" HE ADDED, "I give thanks for the work I have to do, for my friends and for my opportunities.

I just run over my world in my mind, thinking of everyone and everything . . . practicing the attitude of gratitude." I never forgot that phrase and I hope you won't either. It is an important factor in the secret of a life full of happiness.

How can you fill this new year and, indeed, all the rest of your life, with happiness? The Psalmist tells us how: "O give thanks unto the Lord: for he is good: for his mercy endureth forever." Of course, this doesn't mean closing your eyes to the fact that life is filled with hardship and all kinds of difficulties, that there is much suffering in the world, much pain and hard struggle. But it does mean that we can rise above life's troubles by the power of God within us. In that rising above difficulty you'll find the attitude of gratitude a big help.

So try being grateful for people and things and life and God. If you get up every morning and go to bed every night thanking God for every wonderful blessing he has given you, you can't help being more healthy-minded, stronger spiritually and physically, more positive in your thinking. And, when you develop these attributes within yourself, you are acquiring the qualities you need to make this new year and your whole life overflow with happiness.

They say that happiness is a habit. That's right, it is. But it results from another habit, and that habit is one I suggest we all begin to cultivate now. It's one that will help you start the New Year off right. Cultivate the habit of gratitude, the attitude of thankfulness. Think gratitude, speak gratitude and you will help other people to be grateful. As you spread gratitude you will have a New Year full of happiness.

2 Automobiles Collide At Morrow Intersection

There were no injuries in a single mishap investigated Friday in Morrow County by highway patrolmen from the Marion post.

The mishap occurred at 11:58 a.m. on U. S. Rt. 30-S just west of its junction with State Rt. 61, according to the report.

Patrolmen said Osar McNutt, 50, of Canton, eastbound on 30-S, had stopped for the Rt. 61 stop sign. A car driven by Anthony Matthews, 21, of Cleveland, turning west off 61 onto 30-S, swung left of center, just clipping the McNutt car.

Minor damages were reported to both vehicles and no arrests were made, patrolmen said.

A New Year... A New Way

What will you be doing when the clock strikes twelve on New Year's Eve? Celebrating? Celebrating what? The death of the old year and the birth of the new?

Why? Didn't the year past measure up to your expectations? Are you glad to be rid of it? If so—what makes you think next year is going to be any better?

Only you can lay the foundation for a better future—with God's help! If you are to be a better person, if next year is to be a better year, you must include God in your planning.

Here is the opportunity of a New Year! Let us go to the House of the Lord! Let us give thanks to Him for what has been and ask His blessing upon what is to be.

What more perfect beginning could there be to any year?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Good Year in City Government

This is the traditional time for taking inventory in preparation for a new business year.

It also is a period when the successes and failures in many other lines of endeavor are added up, including government.

Striving to obtain an over-all appraisal of Marion's city government for 1958, we reach the conclusion that this has been a better-than-average year.

FOR MOST OF the major accomplishments in the field of community progress we can thank City Council, which has been a very forward-looking group.

With a 5-4 Democratic majority in a traditional Republican stronghold and with 6 new members, including the president, the council has been a pleasant surprise.

In the area of long-range improvements the establishment of Sewer District No. 1 for sewer expansion in the southeast suburban area, and the eventual construction of the necessary sewers, must be rated Marion's top accomplishment in 1958.

We hasten to add that the sewer district was established by the county commissioners and from that point on the project was a joint one.

Despite opposition from the mayor much of the time and an almost unbelievable number and variety of delays, the southeast sewer project was fought through to victory and council must be given a full measure of credit.

THE SECOND BIGGEST local triumph was the manner in which council managed to settle on the major recommendations of the Browne and Roberts arterial highway plan.

This victory was achieved despite almost total lack of cooperation from the administration.

Provided the state legislature takes favorable action in the spring in the allotment of funds for the project, Marion can look forward to construction on its one-way street program in midsummer or early fall.

It has been the conviction of this newspaper for the last eight or nine months that the city has not received the enlightened, progressive leadership from the mayor's office which we feel the assignment requires.

Nevertheless, there is a great deal to be said on the credit side.

In the routine, day-by-day operation of the city government there have been no glaring flaws.

The mayor has taken his duties quite seriously and he has been available in his City Hall office more than any of his predecessors of recent memory.

HE HAS DONE an excellent job of representing the city; in fact, he is the all-time champion at attending dinners, banquets and other meetings.

He has instituted a number of downtown traffic changes, some good and some bad, but in our opinion the net result has been on the side of improvement.

We are not too optimistic that Mayor Wendell L. Strong will get out in front and lead on sewers, traffic and other community improvement projects in 1959.

He has based his political future on a philosophy that leaves little room for support of civic projects that may be costly and therefore unpopular at the outset.

It would be a wonderful development for Marion, however, if council would receive in 1959 the assistance from the administration it so richly deserves.

The year just ending has been a good one. The new year could be tremendous, with proper leadership.

It's All in the Program Now

Whether it was planned or just turned out this way, a shift of football coaches at Notre Dame has been a measure of progress in college candor.

Joe Kuharich, who will succeed Terry Brennan, says frankly he has an understanding with university officials about scholarships. There will be enough to give him the football players he needs to do what he has been hired to do—make Notre Dame as nearly invincible as possible.

Frankness like this would have been unthinkable a few years ago, when it was still the fashion to string along with the myth that college football players were by that token college students who just happened to be football players as well. This duplicity gave college football a black eye whenever it dropped the mask of simon-pure amateurism.

Today the mask has been laid aside. Some college coaches work with simon-pure amateurs—bona fide students whose football ability, if any, is incidental and accidental. Some coaches work with players who are in school on athletic scholarships but must meet high standards of scholastic performance to stay in school. And some coaches work with football players; if they happen to be students to boot, more power to them, but it is understood they are on hand to play football first and be students afterward.

This is, of course, the way it always has been. All that's different is that now the cards are on the table. Football no longer gets a black eye by being "exposed" for being guilty of duplicity. Coach Kuharich of Notre Dame, formerly of the Washington Redskins, dares to say in the new era what once would have been studiously concealed—that he has been promised enough horses to pull his alma mater to the top.

No-Smoking Rule in Schools

An official finding that smoking was involved in the tragic fire in Our Lady of the Angels school fire in Chicago last Dec. 1 will set off more generalizations about fire hazards in schools.

Though it cannot be denied that much good comes out of these generalizations, they also are a source of grief and misunderstanding. The classic example of the good they can do is the fact that all school doors now open outward automatically because in the Collinwood school fire children were crushed and smothered against a door that couldn't be opened. But the fact is that the door in that case did open outward but had been locked at the top by a janitor.

There now will be a hue and cry about smoking in school buildings, at the expense of the truth of the matter, which is that the only kind of smoking to be afraid of is the kind done on the sly in unsafe places. No certain amount of sneak-smoking, but a minimum of rule-making could eliminate smoking by rule-respecting adults.

The Chicago disaster has made officials, parents and teachers take a long, hard look at school buildings all over the country. They have been made newly aware of the potential firetraps in which many children are housed during school hours. But they need also to be aware of the precautions necessary to keep potential firetraps from turning into the real thing.

One of the most indispensable precautions is to make certain that all smoking is done in a safe place — not around a corner on the sly. In a school building used by young children, no smoking should be done by the children, on pain of expulsion.

Other lessons can be drawn from the Chicago disaster, such as the danger of paper storage in areas of special danger and the consequences of being tardy in turning in a fire alarm. But the strongest is likely to be the hazard of sneak-smoking by youngsters who do not understand the vital importance of safe practices.

Still the Season

That warm glow of good feeling that made everybody feel better about everything while all of us were saying, "Merry Christmas!"—do you still have it?

Do you still wish Christmas could be every day of the year? Do you still think it could be done if people worked at it as hard every day of the year as they work before and during Christmas?

You were right the first time. The trouble is, the effort isn't made often enough.

Merry Today! Peace on earth! Good will toward men!

Merry Tomorrow, too. It's still the season to be jolly.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Our foreign agent reports that in the eight-hour talk between Khrushchev and Sen. Humphrey seven hours were spent by each side trying to get a word in edgeways. He says the secret message carried to Ike was "All I want for Christmas is your six front teeth."

U.S. Army is working on weatherproof GI able to serve in Arctic or tropics and never squawk, "This heat is killing me" or write home "Rush red flannels."

Experiments are being held in a laboratory subject to swift temperature changes. Wanna bet the results are not studied by a general in an air-conditioned apartment?

YOU CAN GET Sen. McClellan pretty sore by asking "Wanna see 'Wagon Train'?"

Jimmy Hoffa outlines plans for investment of Teamster funds in more Miami zone apartments and hotels. Wall-to-wall counselors? Is Jimmy hitching his wagon to a Gulf Stream?

Gunmen stuck up a supermarket without customers knowing it. When a woman shopper is concentrating on a display of canned soups, jams or pickles nothing can distract her. Wonder if the gunmen asked the manager,

"Where will I find the Christmas-packaged dough?"

"The President has a very difficult job and I have the greatest respect for any man holding that office." — Harry Truman in one part of speech. "The President is mad at me and I don't give a damn." — Harry Truman a few minutes later. (What became of that idea of plowing a straight furrow, man?)

REVERENCE FOR the happy family, together with a general Yuletide spirit of adoration of children, is getting a kicking around by two famous movie and airwave stars. The couple seemingly ride a bulldozer over the image of the family group at Christmas time.

America has seen many defiant show-world attitudes toward traditions and standards but never one like this brazen brushoff of things associated with a season dedicated to glorification of the home, family and kids. Both participants in a "champagne, caviar and what-fun "nightclub exhibition, almost instantaneous with a suit for divorce by the brushed-off mother of two children, project a mood of complete contempt for things held dear by most people.

Power of Faith

By Howard Brodie

"Ring out the old, ring in the new Ring out the false, ring in the true."
—Tennyson

New Year's is a time for taking spiritual inventory, for looking back over the old year and assessing the good and the bad, for looking forward into the future with hope and faith and courage.

The Romans had something like this in mind in their ancient god Janus, who represented the first hour of the day, the first day of the month and the first month of the year, and who was always first in prayer. Janus, from which we derive our word January, was always portrayed looking backward and forward.

New Year's gives us a chance to profit by the past and rekindle our faith in the future.

"So teach us to number our days that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom."
—Psalms 90:12

Split in GOP

By David Lawrence

Republicans are still fighting Republicans in the Senate contest for the selection of a leader. Some of the group calling themselves "liberal" give the impression that they want to cease being an opposition party. They show an affinity for what the Democratic "liberals" advocate and perhaps belong in the Democratic party. They seem to be intensifying a feud that could alienate conservative voters of the Republican party throughout the country.

Lawrence

When Sen. Bush of Connecticut says that he wants Sen. Cooper of Kentucky elected leader so as to show that the party "is looking to the future rather than to the past," he is by inference attacking Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, and the conservative group in the Senate.

The Illinois senator was a disciple of Sen. Taft. He has supported the Eisenhower administration on every one of its vital programs, including "civil rights." The function of a Republican leader in the Senate today is not only to carry out by his own vote the wishes of the administration but to persuade other Republicans to support the legislative program of the administration.

THE "LIBERAL" Republicans claim they are 100 per cent behind the Eisenhower administration and always have been. So the main problem is to keep the conservatives in line.

Would a Republican "liberal" who condems the conservatives be able to accomplish that feat or would he widen the breach in the party? To ask the question is to answer it but the Republican "liberals" are talking as if it didn't matter whether or not they won the conservative Republicans to their side.

What is the real difference among the Republicans in the Senate? Some of them have been stampeded by the last election returns into thinking that conservative Republicanism was repudiated at the polls.

The theory that more and more billions of the taxpayers' money should be expended for "welfare" and that the budget can be kept unbalanced indefinitely has gained ground among the "liberals" in both parties.

It's the same old story of New Deal days when it took a war to rescue the country from the heavy unemployment that "leaf-raking" and WPA extravagances had failed to cure.

Both "liberals" and "conservatives" on the Republican side really went down to defeat in last month's congressional elections primarily because of the recession. The party in power always suffers when there's a recession.

The voter didn't pass judgment on "liberal" or "conservative" issues. He voted his grievances, blaming the party leadership in the White House for economic ills it had not created.

The next test will come in the approaching session of Congress when the administration announces its policies. These will fit in far more with the established conservative doctrine than with the spending theories of the "liberals."

IT WILL TAKE some sturdy fighting in the Congress to defend the administration's fiscal policies. Anyone who isn't in sympathy with such fiscal policies and believes in the spending ideas of the "liberals" on the Democratic side isn't going to be able to put up much of a battle for the administration.

When the President's message is read to Congress next month it will be denounced by "liberal" Democrats because it will not recommend the spending of the billions they want to see spent.

The administration will be on the defensive and it will need a veteran battler like Sen. Dirksen who is experienced in political combat to inspire the Republican party generally.

It's curious how history repeats itself. Back in 1910 the Republicans lost the House of Representatives to the Democrats for the first time in 18 years. The issue was the "high cost of living" which was blamed on the protective tariff.

The "liberals" of those days were called "insurgent Republicans." They fought the conservatives so bitterly that two years later the Republican party put two rival presidential tickets in the field, divided the Republican vote and the Democrats easily won the presidency.

There are signs that the 1958 "liberals" in the Republican party are ready to do it again—to divide their own party and force its defeat in 1960.

President Eisenhower is the only man who can keep the "liberals" from breaking up the party and, judging by the firm way he has announced his stand on a balanced budget, the "spending" wing of the party cannot expect much encouragement from him.

The issue of 1960 could well be between a depreciated dollar or a sound dollar. On that issue an overwhelming majority of the people will be found supporting a stable dollar.

Censoring Laughter

By Frank Tripp

If it's still safe to peg an old gag upon an Irishman without insulting the Irish race, I won't be chastized for this clumsy entry into today's delicate discourse.

Anyway, Mike won the argument about which is more valuable to man, the sun or the moon. His clincher was that anybody knows it's the moon; "Sure, it gives us light at night — when we need it."

So far, praise the Lord, none of Mike's highbrown posterity has disowned him; or tabooed his wit and unconscious humor as vicious examples of the level of Irish intelligence.

Mr. Dooley's sayings remain the priceless lore of a forthright people. Their Mikes and Pats were their ambassadors of good will and understanding in the welding of our America.

When peoples of many lands and curious traits were getting acquainted and learning to live together, humor, music and laughter accomplished more than pacts and laws.

THE DISAPPEARANCE from the American scene of the varied racial humor of the fathers of all of us, to me is tragic; Tambo and Bones, Sambo and Quimbo, Amos and Andy, Johnny Bull, Mike and Pat, Izzy and Sol, Heine and Schmaltz; all of the once familiar characters that typified the universal humor of the past.

The taboo of their harmless burlesque is one of the most unfortunate things that has happened to this bewildered generation. Their humor was a national sedative.

The world more than ever needs to laugh. All people are funny, and when any get where they cannot laugh at themselves, with each other, and at the sayings and eccentricities of their race, they settle into a canyon of false pride that breeds distrust and hatred.

Laughing together comes pretty close to praying together. Chips on shoulders that can't take a jest breed misunderstanding and dislike; that tough superiority attitude that is hard to take; how about Nazis, Japs and Reds?

As we live together in these United States, how much better if we can laugh with each other over our peculiarities and not look upon honest humor or well intended jest as an insult to a race.

There is so little wholesome laughter in this unreal tinseled age; Oh God, spare it to us. We need it so much more than extra moons.

I QUOTED an old yarn in which appeared the phrase "naive old darkey." The humor attributed to him was typical of that which once endeared colored people to all the world; but now he is disowned by his posterity — some of it.

The word darkey is taboo, it seems; a word of affection like "mammy" when the story had its birth; when laughter knew no color line. Must not use it, said the vigilante.

Well, that's easy, if it offends the sensitive offspring of my fine old colored friends who laughed through youth with me; when a darkey was a lovable character of story and ballad, even to Rosamond Johnson.

But to be deprived use of "naive" will be inconvenient. I was told that to apply it to a Negro amounts to discrimination against the race. Paging Mr. Webster!

I'll try to remember that only a white man can be naive. I hope it will be all right to admit that I am — and that my father was a queer, down east bullheaded Yankee, a quotable character, without an "R" in his vocabulary.

God grant that I'll never be ashamed of him and his endearing drollery.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: As we drove home Christmas night, suffused in the warm glow of your hospitality and overpowered by all the good things we had eaten, we were grateful for another of the completely happy occasions that have graced our lives.

We have talked many times, your aunt and I, about complete happiness. At our age, we are able to understand that happiness is an instant in retrospect, not an instant in immediate experience. To be judged as complete happiness, it must be evaluated by hindsight.

We never have had anything less than complete happiness in your house over the many years you have been kind enough to include us in your celebration of Christmas. We have always remembered that you told us many years ago when you started your family that you hoped to duplicate the happiness you experienced when you lived with us. That makes us out even.

I have no idea how many houses we passed on the way home, but in most of them the lights were on, the Christmas trees were visible through the windows and family groups could be seen moving about inside. We talked about the millions of houses all over this big country where the same thing was happening . . . the thousands of streets and highways where people like us were seeing the same things and having the same thoughts.

This must be what we mean when we talk about the American way of life — this Christmas pattern of behavior that gives almost every child as he grows up a set of memories that tie him pleasantly to the place he calls home. Could it be that we tend to forget this because we pay too much attention to the seamy side of the American way of life?

I do not mean that we have a monopoly on something especially good. But the way we celebrate Christmas is typical of the ways of doing things in family groups that give us our strongest claim to special goodness. Take away the good companionship and love in families, the religious devotion that in itself originates in the family circle and the compassion that family living helps to develop, and there wouldn't be much left.

Fortunately, there is no evidence that these things are going to be taken away; they are here to stay. Your aunt and I talked about that, too. In our span of years we have seen great progress in the right direction. We waste no time reminiscing about the good old days. They were not half so good as they are now.

Forgive me for bringing up the subject in this way, but it was on our minds all the way home Christmas night. We were still thinking about it when we got up. We are grateful for having a family we can be with on the happiest day of the year. Otherwise, it would come perilously close to being just the day between Dec. 24 and Dec. 26.

We are glad you enjoyed our baubles. We like your baubles, too.

They will gladden the new year for us, and we will think of you often, as we always have. Thank you for a Merry Christmas. And the usual regards to all the rest of the family who helped to make it that way.

News of Other Years

40 YEARS AGO — A resolution requesting the world peace conference at Versailles to create at the earliest practicable moment a league of nations that would establish an enduring world peace was introduced in the House of Representatives by Rep. Britten (R-Ill.).

A replica of the famous Statue of Liberty was unveiled in Bordeaux. Placed in a public square, the statue was identical in design, though smaller.

20 YEARS AGO — President Roosevelt's plans to train 20,000 civilian aviators a year provided another indication of his determination to keep the United States high in the ranks of world air powers.

The Chamber of Commerce announced that a new industry, with a new type of mechanical ice cream mix as the principal products, would soon locate in Marion. The company was known as Fresh Craft, Inc.

The state utilities commission dismissed the appeal of the Marion Water Co. from a city ordinance requesting a 12½ per cent reduction in water rates.

10 YEARS AGO — City Council voted unanimously to kill a $100,000 city hospital bond issue voted in 1941. The old hospital bond issue, for which Marionites had never had to pay any taxes and for which no bonds were ever issued, was killed by the simple expedient of ordering redemptions of the improvement note issued in 1946 to keep it alive.

President Truman declined to elaborate on his disclosure that "certain leaders" behind the Russian iron curtain were anxious to end the "cold war."

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: The day I married I became a beggar. Not the kind that walks the streets with a tin cup. This is worse.

During my 10 years of marriage, whether I stayed at home or worked out, I had to account for every penny that passed my hands.

"Why did you make a long-distance call? Why did you buy a new broom when the old one was all right? Where's the change from the dollar I gave you for cough medicine?"

Once when I needed a winter coat my husband bought a used one from his sister. It was a lovely coat, and not badly worn, but that was nine years ago and I'm still wearing it.

Our home is shabby. Almost everything needs re-doing. The odd part of it is we aren't hard up for money. We have a good bank account, my husband is well employed and there's no reason for us to live like this.

How does a woman get out of the beggar class after 10 years? How can she regain her dignity? Please tell me.—ASHAMED.

You're so articulate when it comes to expressing yourself on paper, too bad you're incapable of uttering these words to your husband, who should be getting the earful.

No woman (or man) should have to beg his mate for money. Marriage is a partnership. Women who work and hand over their pay checks, then plead for a handout, are fools. Men who give The Little Woman every dime, then beg for cigarette money are stupid.

The method of handling the family finances should be discussed before marriage. This isn't mercenary, it's sensible. And it prevents problems later.

Money can be more than something with which to pay bills. It can be a club with which to beat a spouse over the head.

Ten years is a long time, But I suggest you sit down with the miser and insist on an allowance as of now. If he refuses, see a lawyer about a separation. Perhaps when he learns he may have to support two households, he'll change his tune.

Stepdaughter Speaks

Dear Ann: I have never read a letter in your column from a contented stepchild. Stepfathers usually are pictured as villains who take mammas away from kids.

The letter that made me want to write to you was from the widow, age 34. She wanted to remarry but her children were against it. She said her children "could never love another daddy."

I'm an authority on the subject, because my mother was left a widow at 34, also. I was 13 when a man wanted to marry her.

I felt uneasy but it helped when he told me he could never take the place of my real daddy and would never try. He said he'd do everything in his power to be as near a "real daddy" as possible.

He was a wonderful father and friend and I don't know how I could have loved him more. Now that I'm married and away from home I'm so happy knowing my mother has someone with whom to share her life and that she is not lonely.

Print this letter, Ann, if you think it may help some child to have a better understanding. — A DAUGHTER.

Shut Off Credit

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 13 years old and have a good paper route. I am saving for college but my dad thinks I should have an allowance of $2.50 a week to spend as I choose. I save part of this allowance in a box on my dresser. I have over $16 right now.

I am sort of the banker in our room. When the fellows run short of money they come to me for a loan. Most of the guys pay me back when they say they will. A certain kid I will call Rusty is a dead-beat.

He owes me 50 cents since September and 75 cents since October. Now he wants me to let him have 50 cents again for a cook-out. What do you think?—ACE.

Dear Ace — in the hole, that is: I think you should not lend Rusty any more money until he pays his debts. Tell him he'll have to take better care of his credit if he expects to use it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Marion Star enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Brisk Market In Real Estate Seen for 1959

Head of Local Realty Board Predicts More Will Seek Dwellings

Increased numbers of Marion and area residents will be shopping for homes in 1959 in a market that will offer an ample array of styles, sizes and prices, Aulton G. Cook, president of the Marion Real Estate Board, predicted today.

Mr. Cook said he based this forecast on reports from the recent San Francisco convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, analyses of surveys of national economic prospects for the coming year and the appraisal of local realtors of possible future local trends. The local board is one of 1,304 throughout the nation which make up the NAREB.

"At our national convention some of the leading economists of the country joined with realtors in an effort to make the most realistic assessment possible of the shape of the economy in the coming year with particular attention to the real estate segment," said Mr. Cook.

Economic Vigor Returns

"A summary of the discussions indicates the return of vigor to the economy as a whole with increases expected in employment, consumer income and savings. Within this framework, the construction segment of the real estate industry is expected to either maintain the 1958 level of housing starts — around 1,160,000 — or increase by 10 per cent," he said.

In addition to new homes in the 1959 market, Mr. Cook said there may be more than the usual number of good quality existing homes available for purchase in the coming year.

"Almost 70 per cent of the homes purchased each year are existing dwellings, indicating the importance of older houses in the market. This figure may be greater this year because we know that people are continuing to seek homes better suited to their needs and pocketbooks than those they now own," Mr. Cook said.

Home mortgage credit, an essential element in the purchase plans of the average family, will continue to be adequate in 1959 unless the competitive demand for loan funds intensifies beyond current levels, Mr. Cook pointed out.

'Buying Psychology' Factor

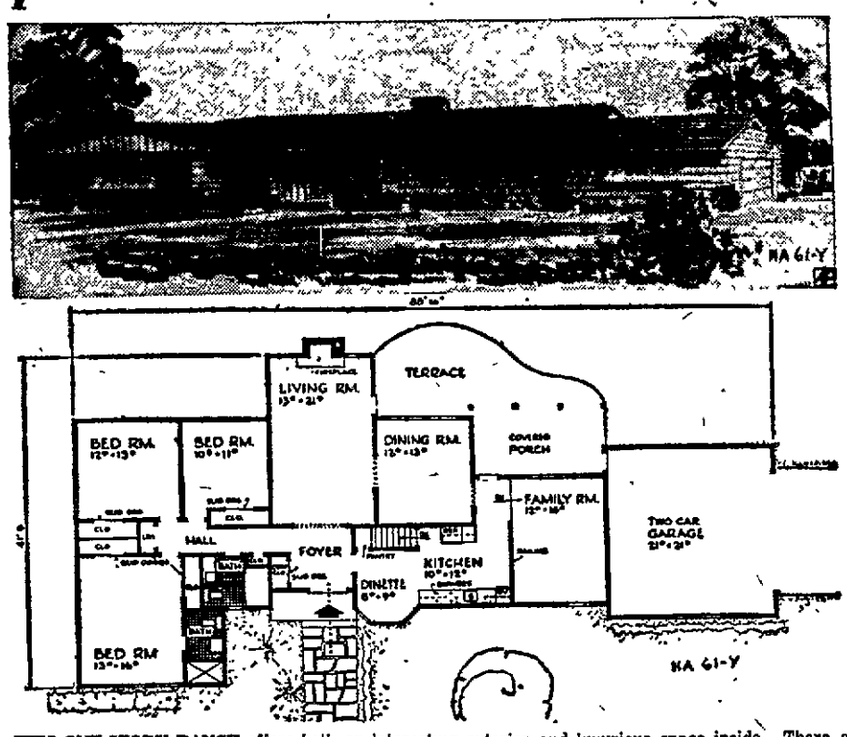
He said he considers "the return to the buying psychology" the most basic factor in the brisk real estate market he foresees for 1959.

In this connection, he cited recent findings of a survey of consumer intentions by the University of Michigan survey research center which showed a "marked growth in consumer optimism and confidence." It also indicated most people feel this is a good time to buy houses, Mr. Cook said.

"Assuming a continuation of the favorable conditions in the general economy which form a foundation of this expressed intention to enter the housing market, it is reasonable to expect that more people will be in the market for homes in 1959," he said.

"It is my opinion that the Marion market will not be different from the national one in this respect," he added.

Spacious Interior Offered in Ranch



THIS ONE-STORY RANCH offers both an interesting exterior and luxurious space inside. There are seven rooms, including a family room one step lower than the remainder of the house. This family room is separated from the kitchen by only an iron railing, making one huge area out of dinette, kitchen and family room. The plan is HA61-Y, by Architect Herman H. York, 90-04 161st St., Jamiaca 32, N. Y. It has 1,583 square feet of habitable area, with 207 square feet in the family room and 471 in the garage.

Gardener's Resolutions Revised Slightly for '59

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHAPPAQUA, N. Y. — Last year about this time, I wrote myself a list of seven New Year's gardening resolutions which I thumb-tacked on the garage wall beside a big 1958 calendar set up to serve as a spray chart and rough day-by-day journal of the growing seasons.

Re-reading those resolutions, I find I kept them exactly as well as I did my non-gardening ones: to go on a diet, to budget more closely, to read at least one good book a month.

NUMBER ONE was a resolution to garden according to plan: a real plan, on paper, with notations of what flowers would be planted where. Unfortunately, after a magnificent plan kept me busy and happy during January and February, nothing went according to schedule.

I was given some baptista seedlings, which had to go into the ground instantly — and they went into a spot being reserved for annuals carefully chosen to provide colorful bloom over a long period. Two plants (also gifts) of Scotch broom landed in a proposed herb garden, and when fall rolled around, once again I neglected to dig a 2-year-old tulip planting out of a corner of the vegetable plot. And these, of course, were only samples of how my best-laid plans went astray.

This year, I renew my resolve to plant my garden on a plan. But I shall abandon the resolutions to dig up and discard excess or unwanted plants and to stop accepting other people's cast-offs. These activities are apparently beyond my will-power.

THIS YEAR, too, I resolve to turn my compost pile more often — a heavy-work job I postpone and thus slow up its decomposition. A compost heap is a gardener's joy: the good rich material that comes from mine produces fine, strong and healthy plants in the beds where it is spread and dug in. And without costing me a penny.

I think my resolution to take better care of the trees and shrubs resulted in a little more pruning than usual, and I know I used more tree wound paint, carefully covering every pruning cut which was larger in diameter than a small twig.

The garden equipment, as usual, went into cold weather unprepared for storage. But this oversight was repaired on a late, unseasonably warm day.

—:—

AND NOW, in the months ahead, come some of the most pleasant days in the gardener's year. This is he time to read the garden books which have been piling up and waiting for cold, raw and blustery days when fireside reading is a luxury.

And soon — so very soon — the seed catalogues will start arriving which means that spring is not really far behind at all. Happy new gardening year.

Color Helps Rehabilitate Inmates, Architects Say

Color as a type of corrective treatment for prisoners is now becoming nationally accepted in correctional institutions.

This therapeutic effect of paint color may be entirely subconscious — "silent assistance" as it's phrased — but one New York architectural firm is thoroughly convinced of the potency of color to help in rehabilitating by relieving deadening effects of color uniformity on the inmate.

LaPierre, Litchfield and Partners, well-known for penal institution designs employ a palette of paint colors to provide visually interesting, psychologically correct color surroundings that contribute to the prisoners' return to society as responsible citizens.

10 Resolutions Suggested for Work in Home

Labor-Saving Ideas, Safety Are Stressed For Handymen in '59

By The Associated Press

There's something about a new year that encourages the belief that things are going to be different. And so we decide to help matters along by pledging to make certain changes in our way of life.

There's not a home handyman anywhere who does everything the way he knows it should be done. There probably never will be. But working around the house can be a lot easier — and safer — if certain fundamentals are observed. With that idea in mind, here are some suggested resolutions for the home handyman for the year 1959:

1. I will take my time on whatever I am doing, knowing that nearly all the mistakes I have made in the past in the workshop were the result of unnecessary haste.

2. I will clean a paint brush each time it is used, because I have heard that 90 per cent of the brushes used by amateurs are discarded, through neglect, long before they are worn out.

3. I will not overload existing electrical circuits with heavy-duty power machines but will have an electrician add an extra line to take care of the added drain on the power.

4. I will keep an airtight metal container in the workshop and will put all paint and oil rags in the container if they can not be disposed of immediately.

5. I will use the recommended blade guards on table saws and similar power tools and will not engage in a running conservation with anyone while using any of the machines.

6. I will calk any and all openings inside and outside the house while they are still small and before they can cause serious damage.

7. In hanging wallpaper, putting up ceiling materials and laying floor tiles, I will not assume the walls and window frames are straight, but will check them to be certain the completed job is not out of line.

8. I will never use lacquer or any other volatile material where there is not sufficient ventilation and will, in fact, endeavor to do all such work outdoors.

9. I will get into the habit of making periodic inspections of gutters, downspouts and all other drainage facilities.

10. I will realize that the manufacturer of a particular product has made extensive tests to determine how it best can be used — and I will therefore follow his recommendations.

Annual wheat production of the United States and Soviet Russia approximately equal each other.

Goldfine Loses Bid for New Trial in Contempt of Court Case

TRUMAN STOPS FOR COFFEE. Sitting next to former President Harry Truman, the unidentified man at left seems to be more interested in food and drink in a Madison Ave. drugstore in New York City. The weather was brisk as the former chief executive took his usual morning walk. He took newsmen and photographers into the drugstore for coffee. The counterman refused to accept payment. Truman said he spent an enjoyable Christmas Day with his daughter and son-in-law and grandson. (UPI Telephoto)

Industrialist Free on Bond Until Appeal

Secretary Also Posts Bail; Jail Sentence Was To Start Jan. 7

BOSTON (AP) — New England industrialist Bernard Goldfine, under a three-month jail sentence for contempt of court, has lost his bid for a new trial.

Goldfine is scheduled to begin serving the sentence Jan. 7, but U.S. District Court Judge Charles E. Wyzanski Jr., admitted him to bail Friday pending his appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals.

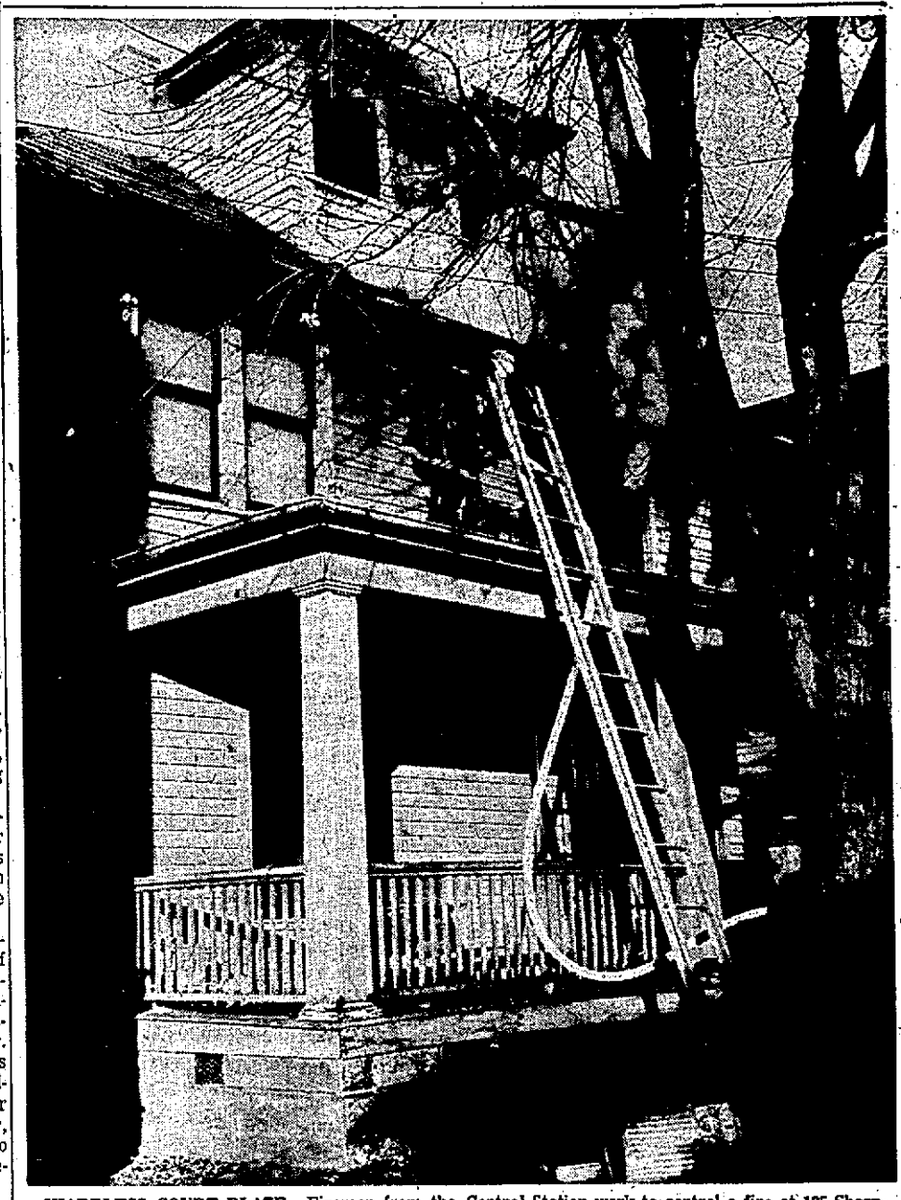
Being admitted to bail, court attaches said, means Goldfine will be free until the case is heard by the appeals court, probably not until much later than Jan. 7.

Goldfine's secretary, Miss Mildred Paperman, under a 10-day sentence for contempt of court, also was admitted to bail pending action on her appeal.

Both were convicted last Monday of criminal contempt after U.S. internal revenue agents charged the pair failed to turn over records of Goldfine textile mills for study.

Goldfine faces trial in Washington March 16 on a contempt of Congress charge for failure to answer some questions about his financial affairs before a congressional subcommittee last summer.

The Washington hearings brought out testimony that Goldfine and Sherman Adams, former assistant to President Eisenhower, had exchanged gifts. Adams, who denied any wrongdoing, later resigned his White House post.



SHARPLESS COURT BLAZE. Firemen from the Central Station work to control a fire at 135 Sharpless Ct., the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Lawson. The blaze, which broke out shortly before 8:40 a.m. today, was caused by an overheated furnace. Flames spread into a cold air duct and then into partitions of the house. Firemen estimated damage at $3,000 to the property and $500 to its contents.

Engineer

In announcing his decision today, the mayor said that he still feels it is an "excessive expenditure" to continue both positions when "one capable engineer could handle both."

T. A. Klingler, the sanitary engineer, has been acting as city engineer since August when City Engineer John Ruth was removed by the mayor. At present pay scales, the sanitary engineer post pays more than the city engineer job.

The mayor said that he is going to work out some new proposal concerning the engineering department prior to a meeting set for Monday night on the 1959 appropriations ordinance. The meeting was called at the last council meeting by Harold Smith (D-at large), chairman of the finance committee. The appropriations ordinance for 1959 probably will be submitted to council for consideration at its Jan. 12 meeting.

Boy Is Stabbed In Fight After Youths' Dance

POTTSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A 20-year-old boy was stabbed Friday night in a fight with another youth as the pair were leaving Dick Clark's Teenage Record Hop at Sunnybrook Ballroom.

Township and special police made their way through a milling crowd of some 1,500 teen-agers in the parking lot outside the dance hall to reach the victim, Robert Neiffer.

He was taken to Pottstown Memorial Hospital where surgeons performed a two-hour operation to repair the wound in the left side of his abdomen. A hospital spokesman said the Pottstown youth had lost a great quantity of blood but, barring complications, was expected to live. He also suffered a minor facial cut.

Lower Pottsgrove Township Police Chief Harry Chrusch said a second youth, Maynard Feno, 20, of Reading, in adjoining Berks County, had signed a statement admitting the stabbing. He was charged with aggravated assault and battery and assault with a deadly weapon, pending further investigation.

Chrusch said there had been rumors of trouble between a group of boys from Pottstown and others from Reading.

Chrusch said he understood Clark, a nationally known TV personality, already had left the ballroom when the fight broke out shortly before midnight and likely was not aware it had occurred.

He said that apparently "trouble had been brewing for some time between the two groups" but that since only the two boys had been involved in the fight, he did not yet know if their battle was a coincidence or a part of the "smouldering feud."

He said Feno told him he had stabbed the Pottstown boy with a four inch blade but didn't know what he had done with it. The weapon has not been found. Feno did not say what had started their fight.

Sunnybrook has long been a popular ballroom in this area with weekly name bands attracting as many as 7,000 persons to the ballroom. It is located just outside Pottstown some 40 miles northwest of Philadelphia.

cy entrance at General Hospital. The transmission on the other cruiser locked up tight the day before Christmas.

Sheriff Obenour said neither of the marked cruisers will hold the road at high speeds. The unmarked car, a 1955 model, holds the road but has developed connecting rod trouble and is being reserved only for extreme emergencies, the sheriff said.

Last spring, Sheriff Obenour asked the county commissioners for two new cruisers. The commissioners took bids on 1958 models and then decided to wait until 1959 models were available, the sheriff said. No further action has been taken.

Totaling up repair bills this morning, the sheriff said some $2,000 has been spent on the two marked cruisers during the last 18 months. This does not include tires and batteries, only major repairs, he said.

"Even if the commissioners decided to purchase new cars today it would take about another six weeks to get them," said the sheriff. The bid-taking process and special markings to meet sheriff's department specifications would consume at least that much time, he said.

During her fourth term in the State Senate, from 1949-50, she became the first woman majority leader and the first woman to head the Rules Committee. That was the last time Democrats controlled the General Assembly.

Miss Mahoney also served two terms in the Ohio House, from 1939-42, and for a time headed the State Division of Securities.

There will be four holdovers from Gov. C. William O'Neill's Republican Cabinet.

They are Dr. Ralph E. Dwork, health; Dr. Robert A. Haines, mental hygiene and correction; Col. Herbert B. Eagon, natural resources, and Richard M. Larimer, whom O'Neill next week will reappoint for a year as pubic works director.

NAMED TO DI SALLE'S CABINET. Two appointments to his cabinet were announced Friday by Gov.-elect Michael V. DiSalle. Richard C. Crouch, 54, of Dayton was named state liquor director. Miss Margaret A. Mahoney (right) of Cleveland was named director of industrial relations, a post she held under the administration of Gov. Frank J. Lausche. Today, Mrs. Mary Gorman of Cincinnati was named state welfare director. (UPI Telephoto)

Cuban Bomber Pilot Seeking Refuge in U.S.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A young Cuban air force pilot flew a B26 bomber to Miami and exile Friday night "because I don't like to bomb cities and kill innocent women and children."

Lt. Jose A. Crespo, 24, said he forced his mechanic to accompany him.

"I put a gun to his head when we took off," Crespo told the Miami Herald, "and then made him sit in front of me on the flight to Miami. I know that if I return to Cuba I would be killed."

Crespo refused to reveal the name of his sergeant-mechanic who was scheduled to return to Havana by commercial airliner.

The plane carried no bombs but it mounted eight .50-caliber machine guns.

Crespo's lawyer in Miami, Jack King, said a hearing will determine whether his client will be admitted to the United States.

The pilot said he had been ordered to bomb Cuban cities in the government's fight against rebel forces and decided to get out. His parents live in Havana, he said.

Cuban sources in Miami said they never had heard of such an order.

The plane was left parked at the airport, presumably awaiting action by immigration or the border patrol.

Planes used in previous such defections were impounded and returned to Cuba.

Charges which were not substantiated, the warden said, were that Licavoli had received and sent uncensored mail and packages, had a special table for guests, had access to a private room without supervision, unauthorized use of the prison station wagon, unauthorized use of civilian clothes, unauthorized possession of a pet (dog) and unauthorized use of special foods and refrigerator privileges.

Licavoli, a former Toledo gang leader, had been transferred to the honor camp about three years ago.

Alvis said the investigation had not been completed, and that all honor privileges had been taken away from Licavoli, indefinitely. He also said when the investigation is completed, other action against some camp personnel is possible.

Hollywood Conversation Piece

Elizabeth Taylor Most Discussed During 1958

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It was a year of triumph and tragedy for Elizabeth Taylor. An onrush of events made her Hollywood's most talked-about woman of 1958.

The year started in crushing tragedy for the onetime child star. Her third husband, fabulous showman Mike Todd, fell to a flaming death in his private plane.

Liz was desolate. Among those who hastened to console her were Todd's dear friend, singer Eddie Fisher, and his wife, Debbie Reynolds. No one then knew what portent that held.

After a few weeks of mourning, Luscious Liz returned to MGM to finish "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof." She said she had little desire to work again, but she was doing it for Mike. He predicted "Cat" would win her the Oscar she had lost to Joanne Woodward the previous year, when she was up for "Raintree County."

Film Triumph

"Cat" established Liz as the hottest female star in films. It lingered an amazing two months on top of the box office winners list, and the critics hailed her acting skill. Free from her MGM contract, she was able to make fabulous deals, such as a half-million dollars and 10 per cent of each box office dollar to do "Two for the Seesaw."

In late summer she found herself again in the headlines, this time in a less sympathetic guise. After a fling with Liz in the East, Eddie Fisher announced a separation from his wife, and Debbie's fans accused Liz of husband-stealing.

Liz admitted that the adverse publicity might affect her Oscar chances. At any rate, it appeared to be a tight race among the female contenders.

Oscar Contenders

Susan Hayward, who left Hollywood to live in Georgia with her husband, Eaton Chalkley, returned to register an electrifying performance as Barbara Graham in "I Want to Live." Jean Simmons demonstrated her maturity with a topnotch job in "Home before Dark." Ingrid Bergman, always a strong contender, scored again with her sensitive work in "Inn of the Sixth Happiness."

ELIZABETH TAYLOR
Finds Triumph and Tragedy

The girl to watch in the future was pretty young Millie Perkins. A New York photographer's model, she was catapulted to stardom with the leading role in "The Diary of Anne Frank."

Behind Scenes

Other women proved you didn't have to be an actress to make a mint in Hollywood. Grace Metalious won a contract estimated at a half-million dollars for film rights to her new noval plus a sequel to her sensational "Payton Place." Rona Jaffe, 26-year-old former office worker, penned a novel about her co-workers, "The Best of Everything," and sold it to 20th Century-Fox for $150,000.

And film writer Ketti Frings won the Pulitzer prize for her sensitive stage adaptation of Thomas Wolfe's "Look Homeward, Angel."

In television, Dinah Shore was again the queen. The consistent high quality of her Sunday night show was a wonder to critics.

All-Out Drive Planned

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Civilians were warned today to keep clear of rebel positions as the government proclaimed an all-out drive to wipe out the insurgents.

Army planes are reported to already have bombed the outskirts of Placetas on the main highway east of Santa Clara, where the rebels are tightening a ring around the capital of Las Villas Province.

The two-year rebellion faces its bloodiest turn as government forces struck at heavily populated concentrated districts which until now have been kept out of the range of gunfire.

A shortage of weapons and ammunition was hampering the government of President Fulgencio Batista in countering attacks by the rebel forces of Fidel Castro.

France Drops Value of Franc

PARIS (AP)—The French government tonight devalued the franc to 493.7 to the dollar and established a new "heavy franc." The government also took steps to improve the convertibility of the franc in international trade.

The sweeping monetary changes were announced after Premier Charles de Gaulle called his ministers to a special cabinet session to overhaul the nation's economic position internally and externally.

The devaluation amounts to a 17.55 per cent cut in relation of the franc to the dollar. The old official rate had been 420 to the dollar.

London feels the trade area will discriminate against other Western European countries because it lowers tariffs and encourages more trade among the six members.

Britain wants a free trade area including not only the six Common Market countries but the 11 others making up the Organization for European Economic Cooperation.

By making the pound more easily converted into dollars, Britain could attract more trade in Europe, where its commercial interests are high.

Under the relaxations expected in England, foreigners who hold sterling as a result of commercial transactions could exchange their pounds for dollars in London. The dollars would come from Britain's gold and dollar reserves, which have piled up steadily during the year.

At present only Americans and others in the dollar area can change their pounds for dollars in London.

Upper Sandusky, Delaware Win Carnival Battles

Irish Bow 65-33 In Rout by Willis

By ALLAN BOVEY

A total of 525 basketball fans jammed the Marion Catholic gymnasium Friday night to watch the first sessions of the annual two-night holiday cage carnival.

By evening's end, Marion Catholic had been trounced by Delaware Willis 65-33 and Upper Sandusky had ridden roughshod over the Mansfield St. Peter quintet by a 71-29 count.

Thus, Coach Ray Robbins' Irish will clash with Mansfield tonight at 7.30 for the carnival's consolation prize, with Upper's Rams taking on the Willis five in the nightcap for the tourney trophy.

The Robbinsmen were out of victory contention in the first quarter of their action with Coach Cal Rucker's Panthers. Delaware, defending champion of the fete, led 16-9 at period's end, had stretched its advantage to 35-17 at the half, and was rolling comfortably along with a 50-26 edge going into the finale.

ALL TOLD, the Panthers rimmed Irish buckets for 26 goals and 13 free throws in scoring 19 points in the second quarter and 15 in both the third and fourth.

Marion completed 10 from the field and got 13 at the foul line. But, Irish scoring was woefully inadequate. They got eight points in the second frame, nine in the third and seven to wind things up.

For the Robbinsmen, it was another tale of mistakes and costly turnovers. Once again Marion did a creditable job of rebounding on its opponents' boards, but avoided its own like the plague.

The Irish scored first and led 2-0 before the Panthers' Robin Crosby goaled to tie it up. When Ken Bensley rolled in a hook shot to give Delaware a 5-2 lead, the die was cast. Marion took a 9-8 lead with 1:55 left in the quarter, but from that point on faded badly.

Robbins inserted an entire new team in the second quarter, giving Harry Traugh, Paul Hurney, Larry Roth, Tim Peacock and Steve Myers a chance to persevere where Tom Rish, Dennis Blue, Demis Dickerson, Duane Isom and Ted Anderson had failed. But Rucker's cagers were equal to the task and had rolled up an 18 point lead by halftime.

At game's end, Dickerson was high scorer for the Irish with eight points. Rish and Roth both had six.

Pacing the Panther attack was Roy Clark with 13. Bensley posted 12, Arnold Broecklin got 11 and Crosby 10.

A total of 36 fouls was whistled in the contest, 19 against Delaware and 17 against the Robbinsmen.

—:—

THERE WAS no question whatever about Upper Sandusky's intentions in the opener against Mansfield St. Peter. Coach Ed Fisher's flashy five, undefeated this season, exhibited a whirlwind attack that featured some fine ball handling, heads-up floor play and more than an adequate eye for the basket.

The Rams hung up a victory by rolling in 22 goals and 27 free throws, compared to nine from the field and 11 from the charity circle for Bob Frye's boys.

Upper was behind 1-0 momentarily at game's outset by virtue of Mark Ault's free throw. But when Phil Clark rolled in a goal to make the count 2-1, the rout was on. By quarter's end, Fisher's quintet was atop a 23-11 score. The winners led at halftime 39-18 and had a 56-27 advantage after three quarters of play.

The Rams hit for 16 points in the second period, banged in 17 in the third, and then, with substitutes carrying the game to the Spartans, collected 15 in the finale. Mansfield, after getting 11 to start the proceedings, managed only seven in the second quarter, nine in the third frame and only two in the final eight minutes of play.

The Rams, whose first appearance in the Irish gymnasium resulted in a 78-33 blasting of the Robbinsmen, were paced to the win by John Hehr, whose seven goals and eight gift shots were good for 22 points. Riley Stover, whose rebounding was a big feature in the Rams' play, wound up with six and six for 18.

Denny Bush, easily the most outstanding Mansfield cager, hit for four goals and two free throws for 10 points. He fouled out of the contest with 4:19 remaining in the final frame. Mark Ault accounted for nine points.

—:—

UPPER PLAYED a fast offense that saw Hehr a shining star in the layup department. Once more, however, local fans failed to see the Rams' Phil Clark play up to form. The Upper ace, averaging 15 points per game, finished up with only four points.

Tonight's two games are expected to be played before another capacity crowd, with 75 cents the admission price across the board, for adults and children alike.

It seems likely that unless Upper forgets all about scoring, it will be wearing the carnival crown and will be in possession of the trophy at the end of hostilities. However, Fisher's boys may get somewhat more spark out of Delaware's defending champs than they did from Mansfield.

Guy Rodgers Steps In, Halts Warriors' Skid

By The Associated Press

The headlong plunge of the Philadelphia Warriors to the lower depths of the National Basketball Assn.'s Eastern Division has been stopped and it took a rookie to do it.

Young Guy Rodgers, a former All-America from Temple, put on a great performance Friday night leading the Warriors to a 106-93 victory over the New York Knickerbockers at Hershey, Pa.

Rodgers scored 28 points, handed off a dozen assists and grabbed 11 rebounds.

Until they went into their tailspin a couple of weeks ago, the Warriors had compiled a 9-11 mark, which kept them within sight of the leaders. Now they are all but out of the running.

The Boston Celtics widened their lead in the Eastern Division by polishing off the Minneapolis Lakers, 107-91, and the Detroit Pistons whipped the Cincinnati Royals, 131-91, in a doubleheader in Detroit.

Bob Cousy and Frank Ramsey snuffed out a fourth quarter rally by the Lakers to lead the Celtics to their ninth straight triumph and 15th in their last 17 games.

The Royals made a battle out of their game with the Pistons for two periods. At the half, Detroit led, 53-51.

Utica's Cagers Rally To Beat Radnor 47-44

UTICA—Undefeated Utica came from behind Friday night to down Radnor 47-44 in the annual holiday tournament in the Utica gymnasium. Jacksontown rolled handily over Bremen in the night's other action.

Utica will clash with Jacksontown tonight for the tourney championship, immediately following the game for consolation honors between Radnor and Bremen.

Radnor whirled off to a 17-2 quarter lead in their action with Utica and at halftime was still in the van 28-21. Utica took over the lead at 34-32 going into the finale and with 30 seconds left in the contest found themselves deadlocked with Radnor at 44-44.

Utica's Don Clockner, who wound up his night's work with 14 points, was the man of the hour, hitting for a goal and a free throw in the game's dying seconds to ice the victory for his mates.

All told, Utica hit for 17 goals and 13 charity shots, compared to 20 completions from the field and four at the foul line for Radnor.

High scorer for the game was Radnor's Red Coonfare, who rimmed Utica buckets for nine goals and a brace of free throws for 20 points.

Utica, which was runnerup in last year's tourney to Fredericktown, won their game at the foul line. Radnor players committed 12 fouls in the second half, for which Utica cagers took 18 shots from the bonus circle. Utica basketballers, however, were guilty of a single miscue, for which Radnor tallied a single point.

Tonight's title game will find Utica and Jacksontown both laying undefeated records on the line. The Uticans downed the Jacksontown cagers both times the two fives met last season.

New Bloomington Seeking Mt. Victory Carnival Title

New Bloomington will battle Mount Victory in the title game tonight in the annual Mount Victory holiday carnival basketball tourney.

Coach Jim Coffman's Rams rolled by Ridgeway 59-43 in Friday night's opening session while the host team recorded a 65 - 48 edge over Wharton.

The Rams jumped into an early lead and were never threatened seriously. They led 14-9 after one quarter and were out front 26-16 at the halftime intermission. They went into the last quarter with a 39-26 bulge.

John Ullmer led the New Bloomington attack with 16 points while Phil Schaber and Uhl each scored 12. Dickerson with 13 points was high for the Ridgeway squad.

Coffman's charges connected on 21 of 59 field goal attempts for a 35 per cent average and added 17 of 26 foul shots for 65 per cent. The losers hit on 11 of 18 at the foul line for 61 per cent.

Mount Victory came from behind in the last quarter to down Wharton. The losers moved into a 14-11 first quarter lead but trailed 33-30 at the half. They regained the lead at 50-47 after three periods.

Mount Victory's defenders allowed only eight points in the final eight minutes while pumping in 18 to clinch the win. Creamer topped the winners' scoring with 22 markers while Walt Buroker netted 11 and Wolf and Heddington each finished with 10. The winners posted a 48 per cent average from the floor.

New Bowling Center Slated To Be in Operation Sunday

The 28-alley Plaza Lanes, located in the new Marion Plaza Shopping Center on Rt. 95 east of town, will open Sunday at 1 p.m.

Installation of all equipment is due to be finished today, according to J. M. Hill, owner. The new bowling center will be equipped with automatic pinspotters, underlane ball returns and is decorated with such items as carpeting in the lobby, drapes on the side walls and mahogany paneling.

A snack bar is included in the new center with a seating capacity for 45. In addition facilities are available for serving and seating an additional 60 patrons on the concourse.

The Plaza Lanes will have rental lockers and coin-operated lockers which will be used instead of cloak rooms.

Plans are being made to outfit a nursery in the near future to accommodate small children while their mothers bowl, according to Mr. Hill. The establishment will sell a complete line of bowling bags and shoes and will be equipped to give two-day service on custom-fitted bowling balls.

For the convenience of patrons during the warmer months, the arena is air conditioned.

Leagues which already have formed will start action the week of Jan. 5. Approximately 80 teams are ready to go, including a 24-team men's league from Whirlpool Corp. and a Thursday morning Ladies League from the Marion Country Club.

"We plan to form a junior league for youngsters of junior high school age and over, and a morning housewive's league, both new in Marion," Mr. Hill said.

On the permanent staff of the bowling establishment are Bob Dixon, manager; Bill Brust, assistant manager, and Don Hart and Delbert Morgan.

There will be plenty of space for open bowling since the league schedule is not filled this year, Mr. Hill pointed out. He said the management will begin immediately to take reservations for the 1959-1960 league season.

Forest Squad Falls to Ada's Cagers 50-30

ADA — In a brace of holiday tournament basketball games played on the Ada hardcourt Friday night, the host quintet rolled over Forest 50-30, while Lafayette edged Arlington 39-35.

Ada led all the way in its fracas, posting a 15-6 quarter score, taking a 27-14 halftime advantage and coasting along on a 13-point cushion at 35-22 as the finale rolled around.

All told, Ada's basketeers found the range for 24 goals and two free throws. Forest accounted for 14 completions from the field and an additional two points at the foul line.

The two free throws by both quintets must have set some kind of record for a cleanly played game, with the game's referees having very little to do in the whistle-tooting department.

By game's end, Hackworth had accounted for 12 of Ada's 50 points by virtue of six goals. Bucher and Rayle both tallied eight.

High for Forest was Lease with seven, with Musgrave posting six and Thiel five.

It will be Ada vs. Lafayette tonight for the tourney trophy, immediately following the consolation game between the Forest and Arlington fives.

OSU Faces Princeton

Dayton and Xavier Register Cage Wins

By The Associated Press

College football comes up with its first big post-season bowl program today, so college basketball answers with this salvo:

1. Six major holiday tournaments.

2. Such important doubleheaders as West Virginia vs. Northwestern and Seattle vs. Chicago Loyola at Chicago and Butler vs. Indiana and Notre Dame vs. Purdue at Indianapolis.

3. A bundle of major games, including matches for the team with the longest winning streak going, Auburn (against Florence of Alabama), unbeaten Bradley (against Gonzaga), and Georgia Tech-St. Louis, Virginia, Tennessee, Temple-Connecticut, Minnesota-Washington, Louisiana State-Florida State, Princeton-Ohio State, and Utah State-Idaho.

The tournament schedule, holding the key interest at the moment, reaches the semifinal stage tonight in the ECAC's Holiday Festival at New York, the All-College tourney at Oklahoma City and the Southwest Conference tourney at Houston.

Second Round Continues

The Big Eight Conference tournament at Kansas City has a second pair of first round games, and first round play begins in the Queen City at Buffalo, N.Y., and the Far West Classic at Corvallis, Ore.

Here are the pairings:

Holiday Festival (semifinals)—St. John's (NY) vs. Dayton, Utah vs. St. Joseph's (Pa.). (Cornell-Syracuse and Niagara-Holy Cross in afternoon consolation games). Finals Monday night.

All-College (semifinals)—Bowling Green vs. Duquesne, Xavier of Ohio vs. Oklahoma City, Wichita-Tulsa and Oregon-San Francisco in afternoon consolation games). Finals Monday night.

Southwest (semifinals) — Texas A&M vs. Rice, SMU vs. TCU (Baylor-Arkansas, and Texas-Texas Tech in afternoon consolations). Finals Monday night.

Big Eight (first round continued) — Kansas vs. Colorado, Nebraska vs. Oklahoma State. Winners advance with Kansas State and Oklahoma to Monday semifinals. Finals Tuesday night.

Queen City (first round)—Brigham Young vs. Dartmouth, Seton Hall vs. Canisius. Finals Monday night.

Far West Classic (first round)—Oregon State vs. Air Force, Iowa vs. Wyoming. Finals Monday night.

Finals show up tonight in the Evansville Invitational, with Tennessee Tech playing host Evansville for the title. Tech nipped St. Mary's (Calif.) 67-65 Friday night and Evansville walloped Washington of St. Louis, 84-58.

All four favorites won in day-night doubleheaders in the Holiday Festival at Madison Square Garden Friday. Dayton, showing the kind of class that could make it the favored team, bounced back from a nine-point halftime deficit to down Niagara 84-79 as Bobby Jones and Frank Case combined for 34 points in the second half.

St. John's whipped Holy Cross 77-65, husky Utah overpowered Cornell 80-61 and St. Joseph's, the pre-tourney choice, defeated Syracuse 72-63 in other Festival games.

Falcons Edge Wichita

Duquesne, winner of only two of six previous games, provided the upset of the four first round games in the All-College tourney, clubbing Tulsa 78-67. Bowling Green edged Wichita 85-81, favored Xavier of Ohio spurted at the end to defeat Oregon 68-57, and Oklahoma City bounced San Francisco 77-64.

Texas A&M's 66-58 victory over Texas Tech was the only surprise in the first round play in the Southwest tourney. Tech was a 12-point favorite. In other games, TCU beat Baylor 62-55, Rice whipped Texas 62-43 and SMU edged Arkansas 65-64.

Form also followed in the Big Eight's opening doubleheader as Kansas State, with Bob Boozer and Wally Franks combining for 45 points, beat Missouri 69-66 and Oklahoma stopped Iowa State, also by three points, 68-65.

Notre Dame and Purdue actually are playing for the "championship" of the Hoosier Classic in the doubleheader also involving Butler and Indiana at Indianapolis. The pairings for both days were set, however, and it doesn't rank as an official tournament. Notre Dame rode Tom Hawkins' 31 points to a 73-67 victory over Indiana Friday night and Purdue, winning its sixth straight, dropped Butler 78-65.

Elliott Agrees Hawks Earned Favorite's Role

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Coach Pete Elliott of the California Golden Bears agrees that Iowa should be favored to win the Rose Bowl game, but he's not about to admit they'll do it.

As for the 18 or 19 points quoted on the champion Hawkeyes of the Big Ten, Elliott said he is neither concerned nor perturbed at such odds.

Iowa's record of one loss and one tie during the regular season gives them an edge over the Bears' 7-3 record, in the eyes of the experts.

Elliott, who set up training shop in the Rose Bowl area Friday, said he is not one to make predictions about the outcome of a game.

Forest Evashevski, Iowa's coach, from the outset branded the big point margin ridiculous, and hasn't changed his mind about California, which he calls "a good football team."

Both squads hold single workouts today, each emphasizing defense and perfecting timing on offense.

Colts Given Slight Edge Over Giants

NEW YORK (AP) — The pro football season reaches its climax Sunday when the Baltimore Colts pit their wild West offense against the New York Giants' grudging defense in the playoff game for the championship of the National Football League.

The Colts, well rested after clinching the Western Conference title four weeks ago, are 3½ point favorites over the Giants who had to beat Cleveland three times to win the Eastern Conference crown.

With the help of the weatherman's friendly forecast of partly cloudy and mild, a near-capacity crowd of 70,000 plus will storm Yankee Stadium. This will be a happy sight for the players, as well as the owners, as the hired help get 70 per cent of the loot, including $200,000 for television rights.

All reserved and box seats held by the Giant office were sold early in the week. However, about 500 turned back by Baltimore went on sale at the Stadium this morning. Approximately 10,000 bleacher and standing room tickets will be available Sunday morning.

Each winning share should be worth about $4,600 and each loser about $3,000 if there is a sellout. Each would be a record, breaking last year's marks of $4,295 and $2,750 for Detroit and Cleveland.

New York area fans who are not at the Stadium will have to depend on the radio as the network (NBC) telecast will be blacked out in New York and a 75-mile surrounding area.

In addition to the prestige of a first league title and the riches to be shared by the winners, the Colts are anxious to get even with the Giants who handed them their first defeat 24-21, Nov. 9.

In case of a tie at the end of regulation play, they will continue until one team scores on a sudden-death basis. This never has happened in a playoff game.

JERRY LEWIS FILM AT PALACE. Starring in "Geisha Boy," a Paramount production, Jerry Lewis hits a new level in entertainment. He is at his funniest as a small-time magician with a rabbit who does all the tricks. Starring with Jerry are Marie McDonald and Sessue Hayakawa.

Theater Attractions

Following is a summary of the motion pictures that will be presented at theaters in Marion next week.

—Palace—

Comedy with a heart is a specialty of Jerry Lewis and he is at his best in Parmount's production, "The Geisha Boy," opening at the Palace Theater Sunday.

Jerry plays a small-time magician who is very dependent on his partner, a talented white rabbit. He joins a U.S.O. troup and then the antics begin. Marie McDonald as the star of the U.S.O. road show, is the first one to be sorry that Jerry is in the troop and before the end of the show, he is banished to fighting on the front in Korea.

Somewhere in between a little Korean boy falls in love with Jerry and Jerry in turn becomes very interested in the boy's lovely young aunt.

Sessue Hayakawa, best known to theater audiences as the Japanese prison camp commandant in "Bridge Over the River Kwai," successfully trys his hand at comedy, in the picture. "Geisha Boy" will play at the Palace through Saturday.

A special children's show with one hour of cartoons is scheduled for Wednesday and shows will be continuous both Wednesday and Thursday. The Palace will have a midnight show on Wednesday night, New Year's Eve.

—Ohio—

Continuing through Tuesday at the Ohio Theater will be "The 7th Voyage of Sinbad" with Kerwin Mathews, Kathryn Grant and Richard Eyer and "God Is My Partner" with Walter Brennan.

Filmed in a new process called dynamization, "The 7th Voyage of Sinbad" presents all the adventures of Sinbad in color, combining human characters with fictional three-dimensional figures. The story tells of Sinbad's voyage to the island of Colossa to obtain a piece of a roc's egg shell to break a spell over the princess whom he loves.

Walter Brennan portrays a somewhat eccentric old man who has his heart in the right place in "God Is My Partner."

A special advance showing of the movie, "The Sheriff of Fractured Jaw," will play Wednesday only at the Ohio. Starring Kenneth More and Jayne Mansfield, the movie is the story of a London gunsmith who decides to take his trade to America's Wild West. When he unwittlingly finds himself elected sheriff of the frontier town of "Fractured Jaw," he becomes involved in a war between feuding ranches. Jayne Mansfield portrays a hotel and saloon owner who soon falls in love with the enterprising young Englishman.

The second feature will be "Gunsmoke in Tucson" starring Mark Stevens, Forrest Tucker and Gale Robbins.

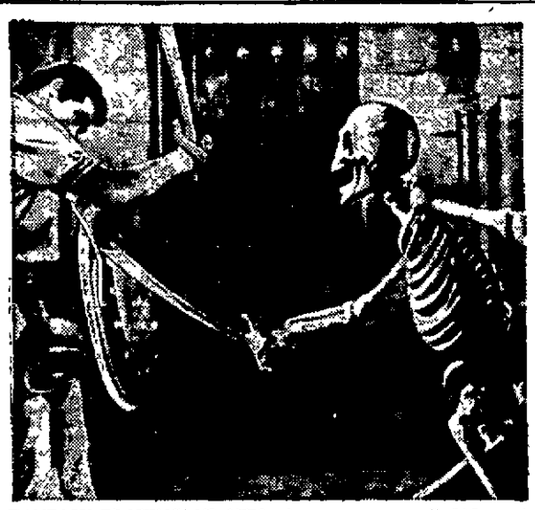
"Gunsmoke in Tucson" is the story of two brothers who change their name after their father is hanged for being a horse thief, then each go their separate ways. Chip, Mark Stevens, becomes an outlaw and John Brazos, his brother, played by Forrest Tucker, becomes a marshal in the Arizona territory.

They eventually meet gun to gun in a fight over rich grazing land. Gale Robbins stars as the love interest in Chip's life.

On Thursday during the matinee only, a Walt Disney cartoon festival will be featured. Starting Thursday will be "The Roots of Heaven" with Errol Flynn, Juliette Greco, Trevor Howard, Eddie Albert and Orson Welles, and "Gunsmoke in Tucson" will continue.

"Roots of Heaven" is the different story of a bitter young man who starts a crusade to preserve the African elephant from extinction. Generally disappointed with man's civilization, he is convinced that the elephants are the last remaining "Roots of Heaven."

The Ohio Theater will have matinees Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and a midnight show on Wednesday.



FANTASY PLAYING AT OHIO. A new process called dynamization made possible the filming in color of this scene from "The 7th Voyage of Sinbad" playing now at the Ohio Theater. Here Kerwin Mathews duals with a murderous skeleton. Kathryn Grant co-stars. The second feature is "God Is My Partner" starring Walter Brennan.

East Banking On Runners in Shrine Contest

By the Associated Press

The Gator Bowl, first of the five major post season football bowl games, topped the first big college offering of holiday gridiron cheer today.

The Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla., was the only other bowl game pitting two college teams. For those who like variety, the North-South game at Miami tonight rounded out Florida's contribution, while the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Ala., and the East-West Shrine game at San Francisco brought together more of 1958's top talent.

A national television (CBS) audience watched twice-beaten Mississippi put its one touchdown favorite role against thrice beaten Florida in the Gator classic at Jacksonville before 42,000.

Ole Miss, with quarterback Bobby Franklin and halfbacks Kent Lovelace and Cowboy Woodruff leading the way, pitted themselves against a Florida ground defense that was seventh in the nation. Franklin and Gator quarterback Jimmy Dunn, a 142-pound mite that can throw a football with deadly accuracy, were expected to exploit each team's big weakness—pass defense. Ole Miss was 11th in the Southeastern Conference, Florida 12th.

East Texas State went out to keep the Tangerine Bowl title it won 10-9 against Mississippi Southern last Jan. 1, against a potent single wing outfit from Missouri Valley College.

Missouri Valley, in its ninth bowl in 11 years, was minus halfback Ken Asbury, out with a neck injury, while the Texans counted on quarterback Sam McCord to run their straight T formation offense.

The only rockwool manufacturing plant in the southwest is in Temple, Tex.

Former California Grid Boss Stricken

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Old-time University of California head football coach Stub Allison was reported still in serious condition today but slightly improved from a heart attack suffered Christmas night.

One of California's team physicians, Dr. James Harkness, remained behind to care for Allison when the Bears flew south for the Rose Bowl game against Iowa.

Allison took Cal's "Thunder Team" to the Rose Bowl in 1938, when it defeated Alabama 13-0.

Navy Moves Last Grid Game Out of Baltimore

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Navy will play none of its home football games in Baltimore's Memorial Stadium next year.

Alarmed by dwindling gate receipts, Naval Academy officials Friday announced that the only remaining 1959 game scheduled for Baltimore, against Maryland on Nov. 7, will be played instead in the new Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium here.

Bucyrus Man Recovers After Rare Hip Surgery

BUCYRUS—A Bucyrus man is recovering in his home after having undergone a rare hip operation which he says left him "free from pain for the first time in 15 months."

Russell Jenney, a salesman for a Toledo firm, suffered a hip injury in September, 1957, when a cement mixer truck hit his car. He is one of only 10 persons in the United States who have thus far undergone a new type of hip surgery developed by a Columbus surgeon. A material called stellite is used in the operation to make a ball and socket for insertion in the hip to replace the entire joint.

Mr. Jenney was admitted to White Cross Hospital in Columbus, on Nov. 22. He underwent the operation on Nov. 24 and was brought home last week.

Takes Post in Florida

BUCYRUS—James R. Anslow of Pensacola, Fla., a former Bucyrian, has been named process development manager for the Escambia Chemical Corp. in Pensacola, according to word received here by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Anslow.

The LSU-Tulane football series began in 1893.

MacKay, Olmedo Await Davis Cup Nominations

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Barring late and unforeseen developments, it will be Barry MacKay and Peruvian Alex Olmedo in the opening singles matches for the United States Monday in the Davis Cup challenge round.

And the American camp, which has been under some strain because of indecision, braced itself for a possible explosion from Ham Richardson, the country's slighted No. 1 performer.

Delays Next Move

Richardson, 25, a former Rhodes Scholar from New Orleans had indicated he would be chagrined if he were not nominated for singles, but declined today to say what his next move would be until he is given official notice.

Rumors have it that Richardson might withdraw from doubles and with his wife, Anne, return immediately to the United States where he says he has job pressures.

The young aide to Sen. Long (D-La) took the day off Friday and went to the races after failing to get a definite commitment from Capt. Perry Jones whether he would play.

The 70-year-old Jones continued to maintain strict secrecy on what tennis thoughts are bobbing through his head.

Awaits Official Draw

He indicated nobody, including the team itself may know his lineup until the official draw Sunday. Richardson is slated to play the doubles with Olmedo.

With few problems, the heavily favored Australians, are tapering off for the three-defense of their trophy.

Wimbledon, U.S. and Australian champion Ashley Cooper and Mal Anderson will play singles — their last in Davis Cup competition — while Anderson and either Neale Fraser or Rod Laver will compete in the doubles.

Changes in Scheduling Of City Buses Reported

Walter Christian, owner of the Marion Bus Co., announced three changes in bus scheduling this morning.

Effective immediately, the Mt. Vernon Ave. run will be discontinued. Buses on this schedule left the courthouse every half hour, went out Mt. Vernon to Summit St., thence to Bexley Dr., Uhler Rd. and the Marion Plaza shopping center.

In addition, buses leaving the courthouse for the south loop run, including stops at Marion General Hospital, and to Silver St., will be discontinued on Monday and Friday nights, Mr. Christian said.

Bus service to the shopping center will be available on the Center St. runs, with the same half-hour schedule maintained.

Mr. Christian noted lack of patronage as the reason for the curtailment of service.

Big Turnout Anticipated at Dance Monday

The annual Charity Ball sponsored by the Woman's Hospital Board, Marion's largest social event of the year, will be even bigger this year, Mrs. Herbert Petrich, dance chairman, predicted today. The dance will be held Monday night at the Veterans Memorial Coliseum and plenty of tables and chairs will be available for all attending, she said.

Mrs. Howard Swink, co-chairman, announced that the Coliseum will be decorated with many Christmas trees, green garlands with holly leaves and large red bows will be draped from the balcony.

Tickets for the ball are $5 for adult couples and $2.50 for high school couples. They may be obtained by calling Mrs. Francis Huber at 2-0340 or they may be purchased at the door Monday night.

The dance will be a semi-formal affair from 10 to 2 a.m. The Ross Halamay Orchestra from Akron, a favorite of Marionites for the last five or six years, will provide the music.

Proceeds from the ball are the principal income source of the Woman's Hospital Board. In the last years, funds have been used to set up the blood bank, buy laboratory supplies, and operate the Well Baby Clinic. Proceeds this year will be used to provide Salk vaccine shots.

More than 800 Marionites attended last year's ball, held at Crystal Lake, "Marionites are urged to come out in an even bigger number this year, because the dance not only provides a good time,but medical help for every member of the community and the county," Mrs. Petrich said.

Smallpox Kills One

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) —An outbreak of smallpox in this headquarters city of the U. S. Army in Europe brought its first fatality today. A 72-year-old patient died in Ludolfkrehl Clinic where four doctors and several other employes have contracted smallpox.

City health authorities have ordered nine schools closed and have called for the vaccination of the entire population of 123,000, except for those with recent vaccinations.

A U. S. Army spokesman said no special vaccination is planned for American soldiers. He said the annual immunization and re-immunization of soldiers and their dependents offered sufficient protection.

Bury 5 Cave-In Victims

ZICHEN ZUSSEN BOLDER, Belgium (AP)—Five victims of an underground mushroom farm cave-in were buried today while rescue workers continued to dig with faint hope of finding survivors.

Officials said 18 persons were trapped by the collapse of tunnels last Tuesday. An emergency shaft was being sunk to a storage chamber in which rescuers hoped to find a few survivors.

Dogs Remembered Well In Will of Their Master

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Mac and George, a couple of rich mutts, are joining the ranks of San Jose Water Works stockholders.

Mac is a part Irish terrier, part everything else. He's 10. George is a four-year-old mostly cocker spaniel.

Neither will ever have a worry as to where their next meal comes from.

Estate Left for Care

Their late master, Thomas F. Shewbridge, directed in his will that the profits from his $100,000 estate go to providing for his two pals.

"I wish the dogs to have the best of care," he wrote in a will dated Feb. 26, 1958. The 50-year-old childless widower died Dec. 11.

His will, filed for probate Friday, ordered all his assets, including a 17-acre valuable prune ranch in nearby Campbell, turned into cash.

He then said common shares of water works stock should be bought with all dividends going for the care of the dogs.

Pays $2.40 Dividend

The stock closed Friday at $53. It pays an annual dividend of $2.40.

The American Trust Co., administrators of the estate, figure it will come to $80,000 after taxes—or 1,500 shares.

That'll mean better than $3,000 a year for Mac and George.

Shewbridge put a 20-year maximum on providing for the dogs. After that period, the entire estate is to go to any surviving legal heirs.

Chicago Motorist Named in Lawsuits Filed in Crawford

BUCYRUS — Tranquillo Marchero of Chicago is named defendant in three actions filed in Crawford County Common Pleas Court here in which judgments, totaling $70,000 are sought by three other Chicagoans.

Plaintiffs are Emma Marchioro, who seeks $50,000 and Lawrence and Constance Griff, who each ask $10,000.

The plaintiffs allege they were passengers in a car, driven by the defendant, when it was involved in an accident near Crestline in July, 1953. According to their petitions, the defendant is charged with driving in "a wanton, willful and malicious manner" in that he fell asleep at the wheel and rammed into the fence.

Mrs. Marchioro claims to have suffered injuries to her left chest and a fractured left shoulder; Mrs. Griff's petition states that she suffered injuries to her left shoulder and back and a concussion of the brain, and Lawrence Griff claims injuries to his left shoulder, left hip and left leg and a brain concussion.
